LEAKAGE IN FUEL FEED PIPE

Prevented Orville Wright from Mak-ing Cross Country Test-Time Has

Washington, July 28.—A persistent wind and a suddenly discovered stoppage in the gasoline feed pipe of his motor prevented Orville Wright from making this evening his final cross country two-man test of his aeroplane. The army officials granted him three days additional time for the test. The time limit under the original contract expired today.

White Plains, N. Y., July 28.—Harry K Thaw's fate lay in his own hands today. For six hours he occupied the witness stand while District Attorney Jerome, the man who tried to send him to prison and who once previously thwarted an effort to release him from a criminal insane asylum, delved into his life history. Thaw emerged creditably from the ordeal. Whatever Jerome and his alienists may make of the examination, to the eye and car of the layman Stanford White's slayer showed no signs of insanity on the stand today.

Insane for a few minutes. I am sans now."

Three years' confinement don't seem to have embittered Thaw. Today he expressed regret for certain of the made in his will against the man his declared he sometimes felt regret, although any feelings of remorae and horror diminished, he said, by the strain of the continued legal squabbling of the past three years. more unspeakable charges which he made in his will against the man he killed. Family and Friends Hopeful.

Family and Friends Hopeful.

Tonight Thaw, the members of his family and his retinue of attorneys and experts are unanimous in their opinion that he has proved his fitness to be at large. His friends believe that if he acquits himself in the future as well as today Justice Mills will have no choice but to grant his application for release from Matteawan.

But Thaw's ordeal is not over. He will remain on the witness stand to-morrow and perhaps a day longer. The state's allenists believe that if he is ineast he will be more likely to betray himself toward the end, when wearled by Jerome's continued hammering.

Litmost Good Nature Displayed.

Utmost Good Nature Displayed. Neither Thaw nor the New York district attorney displayed anything but the utmost good nature today. Frequently the dialogue resembled the chat of friends at an afternoon tea. Sometimes Thaw thought he had Sometimes Thaw thought he had cored a point and smiled with the cenest enjoyment. The smile was always reflected on the face of his white haired mother, who sat in court throughout the day with the other members of the Thaw family. Before he took the stand Thaw kissed her on the cheek and frequently at crifical points in the examination he shot a reassuring glance in her direction.

"I Have Always Been Sane."

Jerome today strove to establish Thaw's insanity mainly on his alleged hallucinations regarding Stanford White's treatment of young girls. Time and again he asked the witness' own opinion of his mental state. Thaw's replies in substance were: "I have always been sane, medically. When I killed White I may have been legally Hartford, July 28.—Consternation has entered the camp of the liquor men house today passed with the stricken president could answer was a muttered: within 200 feet of a church or not, and a host of workers for the liquor cause has invaded the lobbies of the capitol in the effort to head off the effect of this veto and get the bill passed over it, it being known that nothing which could be said from their side of the effect of this veto and get the bill passed over to the effect of this veto and get the bill passed over the could be said from their side of the effect of the veto and get the bill passed over the could be said from their side of the effect of the veto and get the bill passed over the could be said from their side of the effect of the veto and get the bill passed over the could be said from their side of the effect of the veto and get the bill passed over all management of schools and wipes out district schools except in towns which have in them an incorporated city, borough or school district, and today's resolution is offered in direct connection with law to provide in addition to matter would have any weight with the governor. The law providing that no new license should be issued when the place kept by the would-be licensee was within 200 feet of a church was passed at the last sassion of the general assembly and the fact of its evicent has given the items.

resolution is offered in direct connection with law to provide in addition to the provision in it that when school districts are wiped out and the town takes charge the assets and liabilities of the districts shall be binding on the town, that when a joint school district is taken over and its affairs wound up such moneys as belong to it or property as it possesses shall be used for the benefit of that same section of territory included in the district and not for the town in general. When Senator Luther introduced is resolution in the senate and asked for its immediate passage he told of the was passed at the last assion of the general assembly and the fact of its existence has given the liquor element great concern ever since.

Under it present licensees are not affected, but if a town were to go nolicense for even one year and then revert back to the old order of things all the licenses within its borders would be new licenses and covered by this law. This especial affects Norwich, where there are several licenses within much less than 360 feet of Trinity church, and for some reason Norwich years the column to the other was imminent and are much worried over the possibilities. Hartford.

A half dozen bills to change this law were introduced at the beginning of the prezent session and the excise committee held several hearings on them, and all through the session the Norwich interests have watched the exter closely. It was finally decided to report the bill which has passed both houses and is now in the office of the governor, which provides that where a place has been iteensed during the last year in which the county commissioners could legally issue ficenses in the tewn it shall be legal to again license it. In the first place, this means nothing, for it is not the place which is licensed, but the person who conducts it, and H. H. Spooner, the temperance to beying, tried to have it amended so that if it was to pass at all it would pass in such form as to mean something, but its unposters extend to that if it was to pass at all it would pass in such form as to mean something, but its supporters refused to listen to him.

In the second place, the provision applies, as worded, not alone to places which have changed from license to noticense and then back again, but to any town and every year and in that way might be held to nullify more or less of the existing statutes concerning une issuance of licenses. It is understood that it is not so much to the first that Governor Weeks objects as to the principle of such hasty and possibly farreaching legislation and a law so icosely drawn. His veto is understood to be all ready and about to be sent in to the house, where the bill originated, and it is very doubtful if both houses can be brought to the state of mind where they will vote to override the veto of the governor who is giving Connecticut such a wise and well balanced administration.

NATIONAL LEAGUE PRESIDENT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Through Head-Right Eye Destroyed-Little Hope, Doctors Say.

New York, July 28.—Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National league of baseball clubs, attempted suicide tonight in his rooms on the third floor of the New York Athletic club.

Standing in the center of the room, Mr. Pulliam held a revolver to his right temple. He fired only one shot. It went in at the right temple and came out seven inches away on the left hand side of his head. The bullet destroyed the right eye and passed through the upper part of the left. It is not believed that Mr. Pulliam can recover, though he continued conscious for some time after the shooting.

Club Physician Hastily Summoned. At times the witness scored on the district atterney so palpably that the whole court room joined in his smile of triumph. Nothing pleased him more than the chance to correct Jerome on some minor detail of the evidence of past legal proceedings, which he had at his tongue's end.

Signs of Worry.

Thaw's mood was not always jovial. He gave the first signs of worry when the district attorney returned later to his dislike of Dr. Hamilton and asked a number of questions evidently designed to show that Thaw's prejudice was something violent and abnormal.

Another line of questions that made the witness knit his brows had to do with his relations with Evelyn Nesbit before their marriage. Although it has been alleged that Thaw has broken with his wife and that she is alding the opposition, he showed a strong desire today to shield her name. The young woman herself arrived in the court room during this part of the examination and rewarded her husband's evident consideration for her feelings with several radiant smiles. At the same time Thaw showed strong reluctance to letting his wife take the stand and had his attorney invoke the privilege of confidential relations to bar her.

Susan Merrill Present. Club Physician Hastily Summoned.

The sound of the pistol shot was not heard in any other part of the clubhouse, but Mr. Pulliam in falling to the floor apparently dislodged the receiver of a telephone which was standing on a table near by. The operator on the ground floor answered the signal, got no reply, and sent a beliboy to answer Pulliam's room to find out what was the matter. The door was unlocked and the boy, falling to get any response to his knocks, walked in Lying on the floor, half clad, lay the baseball magnate. The beliboy hurried down stairs and gave the alarm. Dr. Higgins, the club physician, was hastily summoned and after making a hurried examination directed that the coroner be notified. Mr. Pulliam, though still conscious and able to speak, appeared to be too confused to answer the physician's questions coherently. The wounds were carefully dressed, but the physician had little hope of saving Mr. Pulliam's life. Coroner's Physician Shrady, who arrived about half and Club Physician Hastily Summoned. Both of them attempted to get some explanation of the baseball president's attempt to kill himself but he continued too dazed to give intelligible answers. The coroner's physician leaning close to Mr. Pulliam's ear, asked slowly: "Why did you shoot yourself?" MIGHT SEE THE LIGHT. There was no reply. He repeated the question. Mr. Pulliam roused him-self confusedly and asked in a dazed Senator Luther Speaking of the Dis-

There was pass-ed some time since a law which makes The physicians decided that any fur-ther questioning was likely to endanger Pulliam's slam chances of recovery. Assisted by club employes, they placed him in bed and did everything in their power to relieve his pain.

Sight of Both Eyes Gone. The sight of both eyes was destroyed by the builet, the physicians said, and although the course of the bullet was not traced, it appeared evident that it had entered at least the covering of the brain, and it seemed more than likely that the injury to the brain was in itself enough to cause death.

in itself enough to cause death.

No Reason Found for the Act.

A careful search was made of the room, in the hope that something would be found which might point to a possible reason for the attempted suicide. Among the many papers scattered about, however, there was nothing to indicate that the act had been at all premeditated. Friends of Mr. Pulliam declared it as their belief that his act was the result of a sudden wild emotion, and was done without any forethought and withon reasoning.

Although Mr. Pulliam's act at this time was entirely unexpected, some of his friends said that at the time of his recent illness it was known that he was subject to severe attacks of melancholia, and his attendants had been reported then as fearful that he would make an attempt on his life. AEROPLANES IN WAR. A Fleet of Them Could Now Be Used With Great Results.

New York. July 28,—That the aeroplane, even in its present stage of development, would be of service in war, was the opinion expressed today by Col. H. O. S. Helstand, adjutant of the department of the east: "I am convinced," said the colonel, "that our government ought to be liberal in its appropriations for aeronautics. For purposes of reconnoitering and scout work a single aerophane would have its place, but with a whole fleet of them an army would be able to do considerable damage.

"Imagine, for instance, what might be done if they were to be employed in an attack on New York city, or any city, for that matter. With one aeroplane going at the rate of forty miles an hour, it would be difficult to do much harm in the way of dropping explosives or inflammable materials down upon our heads, but with a fleet of frem it would be different. It would then be the same as a volley fired by a troop at soldiers; some of the shots would be almost sure to take effect." Washington, July 28.—After working or nearly three weeks at one of the engest and most arduous tasks ever aperienced in tariff building, the macrify members of the conference compittee on the Payne-Aldrich bill rought their labors to a sudden close

Did Not Meet With Executive Ap-

Without a moment's delay the senate and house leaders started away by automobile with the intention of laying their report before President Taft, who had gone to Fort Myer to see an expected flight of the Wright brothers in their aeroplane.

All day long the conferees had struggled with the question of bringing down the house rates on gloves and the senate rates on lumber to fligures they felt would meet with executive approval. In this effort the conferees falled, and they appeared to appreciate the fact.

Minority Members Meet This Morning It was announced officially that the democratic members of the conference committee would be called into session at 10 o'clock tomorrow. It was also stated that the conference report would be reported to the house probably at noon Friday.

A Prediction.

In view of President Taft's utter-ances, senate and house leaders were predicting tonight that the conference rates on gloves and lumber would not prove satisfactory to him.

Lumber Rates.

The rates on lumber are: Lumber, rough, $1.40 a thousand feet. The house rate was $1 and the senate rate $1.50. The senate differentials wers adopted, making lumber planed on one side dutiable at $1.90; two sides, $2.15; three sides, $2.52 1-2, and four sides, $2.90. The senate rates on lath and shingles, which were higher than the house rates, were also adopted.

Conference Rate on Gloves.

The conference rates on gloves are as follows: Women's and children's gloves, valued at not more than $4 a dozen, $2.50 a dozen; valued at more than $4 a dozen; valued at more than $12 a dozen; $4 a dozen; valued at more than $12 a dozen, $5 per cent. ad valorem. The schmaschen glove of sheep origin, which is the cheapest glove manufactured, was made dutilable at $1 a dozen. This is a heavy reduction from the house rates, which made all gloves dutilable at $1 a dozen. and is even less than the senate rate of $1.25 and the Dingley rate of $1.75 per denen.

The conferees adopted an amendment which cuts in half the cumulative duties of $6 cents a dozen pairs provided by the Dingley law for gloves of certain attiching, or when lined or finished in a manner adding to the ordinary value.

Print Paper Schedule Respend Just before the close of the session today the print paper schedule was reopened and the rate fixed at $2.75 at ton. This is only 25 cents less than the senate rate and $1.75 more than the senate rate and $1.75 more than the house rate. It is expected this rate will rise the ire of the members of the special committee of the house which investigated the wood pulp and paper question, especially as the chairman, Representative Mann of Illinois, has announced that he would not vote for the conference report unless the $2 rate was retained. The conference rate is $2.25 a ton less than the existing rate.

Next Week May End It All.

If the report is laid before the house Friday, according to the present programme, it will be printed and taken up on Saturday. It is not believed that the house will discuss it more than one day. If this estimate of time proves correct, the senate may begin with the report on Monday. It is believed that it can be disposed of next week.

This Only on Indictment Alleging Per-jury-Net the Federal Case.

New York, July 28.—An order was signed today by Justice Blachoff in the supreme court reducing the bail of Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker, to 45,000 on an indictment returned against the former financiar in general sessions, alleging perjury. The court also ordered that the surety given originally by Samuel Adams be considered sufficient to cover the new bond on the perjury indictment.

sufficient to cover the new sond on the perjury indictment.

Also, with the consent of the district attorney, Justice Bischoff ordered that Morse be discharged upon his own recognizance on general sessions indictments numbered 64.751 and 64.752, charging grand larceny.

These cases have nothing to do with the foderal charges of over-certification upon which Morse was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years 'imprisonment.
